

DAY 22

“Our present troubles are small and won’t last very long. Yet they produce for us a glory that vastly outweighs them and will last forever!”

2 Corinthians 4:17 NLT

The seasons can be pleasant and they can also be troublesome at the very least. Seasons do have a purpose; they last for a short while and are tools for the Lord to prepare us for eternity. That’s right, you endure short seasons of wonder and discomfort on earth to crown you for an everlasting rule with Christ? It is not much different from those who decide to get their bodies fit. Hard work, healthy diets and training are painful at first but produce healthy bodies in the long-run. These short seasons of physical challenge and pain assist later in longevity as the body ages. The Apostle Paul says “What we suffer now is nothing compared to the glory he will reveal to us later” (Romans 8:18). The season you are enduring now is a temporary one. It will come and go. The questions you must ask the Lord is: What is the purpose of this “new season”? What must you do to make the most of the “new season” to learn from it? When we are finally translated into eternal glory, there will never be opportunities to learn through seasons again. We need to embrace every season that comes our way and ask the Holy Spirit to see the spiritual value that each season has to offer.

Thobela Ku Jesu

Ps Elijah and Thandiwe Nxumalo are doing amazing work in their community. Please pray for the following:

1. Pray for the founders of this organisation that God would help them to raise the next generation to continue the vision of the Kingdom work of God.
2. The elderly people in the community that they will be blessed by the work being done among them. Pray that many will also come to salvation.
3. The drug-addicted children that the ministry team are pulling out of rubbish dumps. 2 centres have been started in PTA West and Kwa-Mahlanga where these children are taken to for safety, to be clothed and fed and cared for. They work with Bishop Johanna who helps with the children.
4. The team to prosper and grow.
5. The safety of the team as they have ministered in dangerous hotspots like Marabastad and at Melchizedek.

Today the focus of our prayers will be Repentance for immorality, perversion and impurity: Our nation is a hotbed for many immoral issues. Lessons about morality and purity start in the individual. The individual is taught by their family of what is moral and pure. If the family does not set an example for the individual, then the community will eventually be affected. If enough communities engage in immorality, perversion and impurity than the nation is eventually affected.
